The government of India has banned the website due to the crime of piracy through that website. To understand piracy, you need to know about piracy. So piracy is a legal crime in India which is - if someone steals something and that thing is used in business and earns money by renting it is called piracy. This means that if someone uses something in the business without the permission of the real owner, then it is piracy. And most piracy is in movies and software. As it has become a fashion in India nowadays, many people also pirate movies and software online. Keeping this in mind, the government has enacted a law in this regard. If anyone commits that crime, he will be punished by that law. What if I download movies from Mallumv? According to the law, whoever commits piracy will be punished and whoever helps in piracy will be punished. On the other hand, downloading and watching movies from piracy websites also helps in piracy. So from that point of view, downloading movies from piracy movie websites is also a crime according to the law. But the question is that every day thousands of people download movies through piracy websites, and all of them will be punished. India's legal system is not good enough to punish everyone. So those who commit piracy are being punished. No action has yet been taken against the movie that is downloading. However, filmmakers can take legal action against you if they wish.
